

TODAY'S READINGS

They all ate and were satisfied. And when the leftover fragments were picked up, they filled twelve wicker baskets. (Luke 9:17)

People will stand in line for hours to see a blockbuster movie or to get into a sporting event. But would you risk your life to hear a sermon?

Imagine this scene of more than five thousand people in a deserted place. They had no food or shelter, yet they would not make the journey to the nearest town unless Jesus dismissed them. They were so happy to be with him, even if it meant going hungry for a day!

You can understand why the apostles were concerned and approached Jesus for help. Most important, you can understand the eager excitement of the people. They were as spiritually empty as their stomachs were physically empty, and they were receiving so much spiritual food that they wanted to stay and take in all that Jesus had to say.

On this feast of the Body and Blood of Christ, let's remember the excitement of those hungry souls and the way that Jesus fed them, both spiritually and physically. Most important, let's savor that last little detail about the twelve baskets of bread that were left over. Jesus was perfectly capable of giving the people the exact amount of food that they needed, but he chose to give them far, far more. What a powerful image of Jesus' abundant love and mercy!

When we come to the Lord at Mass with nothing but our empty baskets, he won't disappoint us. He won't leave us hungry. His Living Bread doesn't just meet our needs; it overflows!

Today, recall the excitement of the crowd, and spend some time considering the overwhelming abundance of love that God is offering you through the Body and Blood of Christ. Know that any spiritual hunger that you experience can be filled abundantly through Christ.

"Lord, I thank you for meeting me in that deserted place, where I sit with my empty basket, ready for you to fill it with your overflowing grace and mercy."

JUBILEE OF MERCY

Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ – “Today I wish to speak to you about the close relationship between mercy and mission. Just as we naturally seek to share with others the beautiful moments of our lives, we are called also and especially to share the joy of encountering Jesus Christ. To encounter Jesus is to experience his love, which transforms us and compels us, in turn, to share this love. We are called to be ‘bearers of Christ’! By being such missionaries, we come to experience more deeply the gift of mercy in our own lives. May we take seriously our call to be Christians, to live as believers, so that the Gospel may touch the hearts of all people and open them to the gift of God’s love.” (Pope Francis, January 30, 2016). Find ways to share your encounter with God’s mercy at mercy.adw.org.

LECTURAS DE HOY

En la multiplicación de los panes y los peces, San Lucas dice que el Señor quería retirarse a descansar con sus apóstoles, pero que terminó atendiendo al gentío que lo esperaba. Como pastor compasivo y bondadoso, curó a los enfermos, enseñó acerca del Reino de Dios y les dio de comer.

Más tarde, San Pablo escribía a la atribulada iglesia de Corinto explicando que Jesús sigue siendo capaz de alimentar y cuidar a su pueblo: "Cuantas veces coman este pan y beban esta copa, proclaman la muerte del Señor, hasta que él venga" (1 Corintios 11, 26). En efecto, el sacrificio de Cristo, que actualizamos en cada Misa, sigue teniendo poder para limpiarnos de todo pecado y llenarnos de la vida divina. Cada vez que leemos la Sagrada Escritura, nos renovamos, y cada vez que hacemos oración, podemos ser llenos del Espíritu Santo.

Este domingo de Corpus Christi está dedicado a exaltar la bondad del Señor, que nos alimenta con su Cuerpo y su Sangre en la Sagrada Eucaristía. Su Cuerpo santísimo y su Sangre preciosa son nuestro mejor sustento cuando nos acercamos al altar con humildad y corazón contrito. Al mismo tiempo, cada vez que recibimos la Sagrada Eucaristía también esperamos el día glorioso del regreso del Señor. Luego, cuando Cristo se manifieste plenamente, él mismo nos alimentará directamente, ya no por medio de la palabra y el sacramento, sino que "seará todas las lágrimas de ellos, y ya no habrá muerte ni llanto, ni lamento, ni dolor, porque todo lo que antes existía ha dejado de existir" (Apocalipsis 21, 4).

Comamos y bebamos hoy a Cristo Jesús con gratitud de corazón. Él es quien nos alimenta; él es quien satisface todas nuestras necesidades físicas y espirituales. Esperemos con ansias el día en que Jesús venga a estar con nosotros. ¡Esta es la esencia de nuestra esperanza!

"Oh, Señor, en tus palabras encontramos la verdad; en tu Cuerpo y tu Sangre encontramos el poder para entregarnos en tus manos; en tu muerte encontramos la vida; en tu resurrección encontramos la esperanza de la vida eterna. ¡Ven, Señor Jesús!"

Are you a Catholic who is searching for a more spiritually fulfilling life?
Are you thinking about becoming more active in your Catholic community?
