Directed By: Deacon Ed McCormack, Ph.D.

Formation Faculty, Theological College and Catholic University. Ed McCormack has been teaching theology for the past thirty years to undergraduates and graduate students. For the last twenty years, he has been training men and women for ministry in the church at both the masters and doctoral levels. Ed earned a Ph.D. in Systematic Theology at The Catholic University of America. Currently, Ed is a member of the formation faculty at Theological College where he serves as a formation advisor and Coordinator of the Human and Spiritual Formation. He also teaches in the Spirituality Department at the Catholic University of America. Soon to be published are two handbooks on formation advising for priestly ministry entitled “Forming Future Priests: Accompaniment, Participation and Evaluation.” In progress is a book about guiding a person through the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola. For thirty years, Ed devotes himself to adult faith formation, directing retreats in the Ignatian Tradition, and guiding others through the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. He serves as a Permanent Deacon at St. John the Baptist Catholic Community in Silver Spring, Maryland where he preaches regularly. His homilies and other videos on the Christian life can be found on his Youtube channel, Deacon Ed McCormack. He is also a family man with a wonderful wife and two beautiful girls who keep him very busy.

All are invited to this event, free of charge. Donations are welcome!
